FOREWORD

Outdoor recreation is gaining in popularity daily throughout the State and the nation. Georgia has a wealth of natural resources available for enjoyment by the outdoorsman. With the growing involvement of Georgia's citizens in outdoor activities, there exists an opportunity for development in appreciation of nature and concern for preservation.

Participation in well-rounded camping programs by Georgia's citizens of all ages is enhancing this appreciation. Thus, the "Directory of Resident Camps in Georgia" is presented. It is intended to be merely an aid for selection of a camp, not an endorsement of one camp over another. This list will probably be continually changing. Therefore, certain limitations are expected. Additions to the list will be appreciated.

It is hoped that a camp offering an enriching camping experience will be found on the following pages.

HOW TO CHOOSE A CAMP FOR YOUR CHILD

Know your child's wants and needs.

Check the camp's reputation.

Meet the Camp Director and, if possible, his staff.

Visit the Camp. Does it meet all Government Safety requirements? Is it accredited by the American Camping Association?*

Look at the Camp program. Will it supply what your child needs?

*ACA Standards require high quality in administration, program, personnel, health, safety, sanitation, transportation, campsite location, facilities and equipment.

For additional camp listings consult the ACA Directory of Camps available at nominal cost from American Camping Association, Bradford Woods, Martinsville, Indiana 46151.
